

Digital transfers – no Medallion Signature Guarantee required

Computershare was the first transfer agent to offer digital transfers, and we continue to enhance this technology. With our digital transfers solution, your shareholders no longer need to obtain a Medallion Signature Guarantee for select transfers.

A Medallion Signature Guarantee certifies the authenticity of the signature authorizing the transfer. Before our digital solution, shareholders would need to go to a financial institution offering this guarantee, a time-consuming, manual, paper-based process.

Our digital transfers solution allows shareholders to simply enter their transfer details, complete their identity verification by providing an image of a government issued ID and a selfie, submit images of any required documents and pay the fee, reducing the processing time from potentially days to minutes.

We will be expanding the types of accounts and transfers eligible for the digital process to further improve this convenience for your shareholders.

The digital transfer agent experience is here. Computershare is leading it.
