London, Monday 20 April 2015 – Financial services company Computershare (ASX: CPU) has congratulated their award-winning clients after Thursday's Global Equity Organisation (GEO) Awards.

Stuart Irving, Computershare's President and CEO said: "Congratulations to all the winners at this year's GEO Awards, including five of Computershare's clients.

"We're really proud that the successes of so many of our clients were recognised on the night.

"We share their commitment to creating the most ambitious and effective employee share plans and we're looking forward to continuing our work together."

Computershare client wins included Evraz in the 'Emerging Market' category, Vodafone and Kimberly-Clark in the 'Corporate Actions' category, Eli Lilly and Company in the 'Best Use of Technology' category and Fletcher Building in the 'Best Use of Video Communication' category.

Grant Niccol, General Manager, Share Plans at New Zealand company Fletcher Building said: "We are delighted that our efforts with our global share plan, FBuShare, have been recognised with this GEO award.

"From the outside, achieving a goal can sometimes look simple and easy. That's not been the case with FBuShare.

"A huge amount of work went into its design and delivery, from our own people and our service providers, most notably Computershare, EY and the legal teams around the world."

GEO describes the awards, which took place at the Park Plaza Westminster Bridge in London, as being "designed to celebrate excellence by honoring impressive companies from around the globe who truly demonstrate their leadership and dedication to their employee stock plans."
